The Song of the Cradle.

Bye, bye! Hope rises high:
There's a sweet little cradle hung up in the sky;
A dear little life that is coming to bless;
Two soft chubby hands that will pat and caress;
A pure little soul winging down from above;
A darling to care for, a baby to love.

One of the grandest agencies which enlightened Science has discovered to relieve motherhood from excessive suffering is the "Favorite Prescription" devised by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y.

This wonderful "Prescription" imbues the entire nervous system with natural, healthy vitality; gives elastic vigor to the delicate organism specially concerned in motherhood, and makes the coming of baby entirely free from danger and almost free from pain.

"I wish to state that I have used Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription with very good results," writes Mrs. Katie M. Annis, of Hudson, New Hampshire. "Had been in poor health for over four years and had been twice in the hospital. My husband brought some of your 'Favorite Prescription,' and it has carried me easily through my last two confinements. We are now blessed with two healthy children, and I am sure your medicine has done me more good than all the other treatment I have ever received."

BAD HEADACHES generally arise from bad stomachs. Foul breath, bitter taste, coated tongue, sour eructations or belching of gas, are common symptoms though not all present in every case. To cure, take small doses, only one or two each day, of old Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up by him over 40 years ago. One or two a laxative, three or four cathartic.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, gives hair free to grow as healthy as intended. Destroy the cause and the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated.

Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

War in the East.

According to the Tokio correspondent of the London Telegraph, the position of the Russian in Manchuria, despite Gen Linevitch's grandiose dispatches, is not enviable. This will soon be revealed into a practical form. The Japanese enveloping movement will be three or four times greater than it was at Mukden. Gen. Linevitch's rear guard is threatened, as is also his flank in the direction of Vladivostok, through the coast territory, and from the mouth of the Amur river.

An official dispatch received in St. Petersburg yesterday from Gen. Linevitch reports that on August 2 the Russians approached the villages of Nanchenchensi and Suisuluchua, forcing the Japanese to evacuate their frontal positions and retreat to their fortifications. The following day the Japanese advanced, but were forced to retire. On August 2, also, the Russians drove the Japanese from the village of Landunchensi, twelve miles south of Taogau.

It is reported in Tokio that the Russians are vigorously fortfying the mouth of the Amur river. A mixed division has been dispatched from Habalovsk to Nicolaitfsk to reenforce the garrisons in the vicinity. It is understood that the channels approaching the river have been mined.

The disposition of the convicts on Sakhalin Island is now under consideration. They will probably be taken to the Russian coast and will there be transferred to the Russian authorities.

Under a prearrangement, the Russian prisoners of war on the island, 40,000 in all, are being transported to Japan.

It is rumored among the Chinese at Lidiapudze, Manchuria, that Field Marshal Oyama declared at Changtufu that the war would soon be over, and that the Chinese would soon be able to devote themselves to agricultural pursuits.

Girl Swallowed Snake.

Dr. George F. Taylor, of Baltimore, had a rare medical case Sunday. A girl whose name he would not divulge, but who is about twelve years old, called at his office about 5 o'clock and complained of feeling very ill. The physician gave her an emetic, and, to his surprise, she vomitted a garden snake about five inches long and alive. The child became frightened at the reptile and it required all the doctor's gentle art to restore her composure. With the departure of the snake from the stomach the girl grew physically better and before long was herself again, but the question still asked is how did the little creature find its way into her system? The only solution thus far suggested is that it was swallowed with water dipped from a spring on the Harford road, near Herring run. On Sunday morning the child, with several other girls and a chaperon, took a trolley car ride out the Harford road to Herring run, and, after a stroll through the woods, stopped at a spring which sets in a shady grove a few paces from the road, and which supplies all the residents of the neighborhood with drinking water. All the little girls leaned over the spring and drank from its cool depths, using an old gourd for a dipper. The girl in question said she recollected feeling something wriggling down her throat as she drank, but paid no further attention to it. In a few moments she began to feel ill and in a short time was so ill that her companions were alarmed. She was hurried to her home on the next car, and as soon as it was ascertained by her parents by telephone that Dr. Taylor was at his office, the father ran thither with the girl in his arms.

Banana as Food.

Professors of dietetics tell us that the banana is not as many fruits are, a flavor and nothing more, but a food and a source of real nutriment. It is at once useful and delicious. It not only gratifies the palate, but supplies material for combustion and the maintenance of animal heat, while it also builds up the muscles and repairs the worn and threadbare nerves.

The flour made from it in its dried state is equal in nutritive value to rice, and how invigorating and sustaining rice is has been demonstrated in the recent achievements of the Japanese. Dried and sprinkled with sugar, a form in which it has been recently introduced in this country, the upstart banana is, weight for weight, as nutritious as the venerable fig.

But it is in the fresh state, clad in its primrose tunic—the stripping off of which is in itself a fascinating operation—that the banana chiefly appeals to us. Its creamy succulence and delicate odor are inviting and its pleasant sapor is a prelude to good digestion. Dependent as that sapor is in ethereal body which the coal tar investigators have not yet been able to imitate it by chemical essence, it is a subtle stimulus to all subsequent elementary processes. And thus it is that the banana is an eminently digestible food. No sense of oppression or drowsiness follows a meal of it, and a meal of it may be bulky enough.—[Pall Mall Gazette.

Grave Trouble Foreseen.

It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your disease, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had neuralgia of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists at 50c a bottle.

Perfection Mosquito and Fly Canopies.

Why be annoyed by mosquitos and flies when it can be prevented by a very small expense and no trouble?

We call special attention to the fact that the "Perfection" 5-coil canopy springs have been THOROUGHLY TESTED in tension, action, power and endurance, and found that they will lift any grade new net to a perpendicular position against the head board, and will also undergo the strain of being fastened down, day and night, continuously for many months without showing signs of weakness, when properly adjusted. They are small in diameter; noiseless in operation; look neat and pretty; are not clumsy nor in the way; are strong and durable, and the most perfect canopy springs ever put on the American market.

Made in all sizes and can be adjusted to either metal or wood beds.

Have us put one up for you, and after one week's trial if not entirely satisfactory we will take it down and refund your money.

Senator Gorman to Retire?

"I know absolutely that United States Senator Gorman will not be a candidate for re-election to the Senate and that he will, with the expiration of his present term, retire to private life and devote himself to prolonging his days." This statement, it is said, was recently made in New York by one of the Senator's closest friends, who has been in New and hopes to meet the Senator at Saratoga, if the health of the latter, which is reported to be poor, permits of his annual visit to that resort. This gentleman says that Senator Gorman is not physically a well man, and that the worry of each political campaign through which he has passed has left its mark upon the once rugged constitution of the Marylander. He also says that the Senator feels that his long years in the Senate and in the service of his party entitle him to a complete rest, with the end of his present term, and that he is willing that younger men shall take up the work that has fallen to him.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the oldfashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in in case of cholera infantum. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS

TUESDAY EVENING, AUG. 8, 1905.

SENATOR MARTIN and Governor Montague appeared at Rocky Mount yesterday, and between three and four thousand persons listened to portions of the speeches of both candidates for the Senate. While these gentlemen were at the same place they were not engaged in joint debates, but under oak trees on separated eminences addressed the voters, Senator Martin answering effectively every charge that had been formulated by Governor Montague. It was charged that the latter was acting in an indelicate manner in intruding into the festive scenes, as the barbecue was conceived and formulated by Senator Martin's friends, and at their earnest wish the Governor's challenge to a joint debate was very properly declined. The two candidates consequently spoke about half a mile apart. From a careful reading of reports of the speeches of both gentlemen there is is every reason to believe that had a joint discussion taken place Governor Montague would not have emerged the gladiator his admirers imagine him to be, as Senator Martin put in some titanic blows and presented facts that are incontrovertible. The Senator took up each of the Governor's charges separately and refuted them to the satisfactiou of all unbiased people. Among other things Senator Martin charged Governor Montague with neither signing nor vetoing the bill to place Gen. Lee's statue in the Capitol at Washington. "Who was the colorless man at that time?" he asked amid resounding cheers. "Had I been governor I would have walked 100 miles to sign that bill." Senator Martin read a list of measures that the governor refused to sign or veto, proceeding point by point, pausing to emphasize that "the governor was inaccurate as usual" or that "the governor was playing a little cheap politics." In the course of one forceful point the Senator declared: "If Governor Montague has made an accurate statement since he began his campaign at Spottsylvania Court House, I have not discovered it." The Senator told how Gov. Montague seven years ago opposed the single book system for the public schools, and about a year ago finally submitted a resolution to abolish the multiple system, although now claiming that he had been against the multiple system all along. In reference to the settlement by the general government with Virginia, for which the governor takes great credit to himself, Senator Martin said:

After we had passed that appropriation, wouldn't it have been the decent thing for the governor to have corresponded with me about the proceedings before the Treasury Department? Knowing the case as well as I did, I could have gone there and settled the account in thirty minutes without further expenditure of a cent. He went to Washington, then hired clerks to prepare an account, and paid them $1,050 for work on a claim that, he says, was worth only $5.50 to Virginia. Is not that an excellent business governor? If any school boy could not see the falsity of his statement, I would not think him fit to learn a trade. He would be fit only to put in a blacksmith shop to brush the flies off the horses.

THERE ARE at all times people in the world who are prone to overdo everything and continue their adulations of certain individuals ad nauseam. A notable case is chronicled in holy writ. One of the Herods arrayed himself in silvery apparel and when the rays of the sun fell upon him an excited crowd lost their heads and said he was a god. Failing to rebuke the multitude, we are told that he was stricken and worms began to devour his body before dissolution. A modern specimen of the spirit exhibited by the worshippers of Herod in Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulaus, formerly of Baltimore, but now of Chicago. He is credited with uttering the following in a church in that city last Sunday night:

The one man of the world who matches Jesus Christ in seriousness of purpose, in purity of life, is the President of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt.

Most of the clergy naturally look on such language as blasphemy, the rankest absurdity and bosh. One reverend gentleman in Denver said:

It is absurd to compare Roosevelt with Christ. I admire the man, but we do not know whether Roosevelt compares even with Washington or Lincoln.

IT MATTERS not the reasons for Russia's defeat, but that she has been beaten by Japan is tacitly admitted even by Russia herself, and now for the peace terms. Two sets of terms, it is reported in Portsmouth, N. H., will be submitted by the Japanese to the Russians at the coming conference. The first set, regarded as moderate, will include an indemnity of about $750,000,000, the cession of Saghalin and relinquishment of control over Manchuria. This proposition must be accepted at once. If it is rejected the second and more drastic set will include the cession of Vladivostok and a large part of Russia's possessions in Asia. Woe to the conquered!

From Washington.

Washington, D. C., August 8.

Unless it is ascertained later that there has been indifference on the part of railroads in the yellow fever stricken districts of the South in carrying mails, the Postoffice Department will impose no penalties for failure to transport the mails. Reductions will be made for every mail not carried, as is done, it is said, under all circumstance. The roads are being urged to substitute some other methods of transportation where the train service has been suspended. In some instances handcars have been pressed into service, it is reported at the Postoffice Department, to succeed the "lightning mail trains", no longer running.

Surgeon General Wyman will give Dr. J. H. White a free hand in dealing with the yellow fever situation in Louisiana. All the details of the work of stamping out the fever and caring for the victims will be worked out in New Orleans and submitted to Dr. Wyman for formal approval. Unless the epidemic should continue to spread and Dr. White's campaign against it prove unsuccessful, events which are most unexpected, Dr. Wyman will remain in Washington conducting general supervision over the campaign.

A cablegram received at the Bureau of Insular Affairs from the Taft party in Manila today says: "Members of party all well and happy. Loaded down with business and social engagements. Although Secretary of the Treasury Shaw is not in the city, there are those here who enjoy the Secretary's confidence and to whom the report from New York that he is supposed to have submitted his resignation to the President comes as a surprise. If he has really done so, he has done it without consultation with his friends here and has quite suddenly changed his plans, which contemplated retirement from the Cabinet about February 1st, when he will have rounded out four years of service.

Virginia Republicans.

Roanoke, Va., Aug. 8.—The republican State convention to nominate a full ticket for the fall election, assembled here this morning with a thousand delegates representing every county in the State, in attendance. In point of size it is the largest republican convention ever held in Virginia. But few negroes have seats. Everything points to a harmonious affair. United States Deputy Collector J. L. Gleaves, of Wytheville, is temporary chairman, and delivered a speech which was frequently cheered. Former Congressman R. T. Throp, of Norfolk, will probably be made permanent chairman of the convention. The committee on platform will report Wednesday morning. The platform is not long. Judge L. L. Lewis, of Richmond, U. S. District Attorney, will be named for Governor with no opposition. Other nominations have not been announced. Secretary Shaw arrived this morning and will address the convention this evening. The republicans will make the hardest fight in the election in several decades. Many of the prominent party men in the State are here.

FIRE IN HOBOKEN.

The ferry house of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway, in Hoboken, was burned about 11 o'clock last night. It was an old-fashioned wooden structure, and in a few minutes it was wrapped in flames.

All the fire engines in Hoboken were on the scene in a couple of minutes, but were unable to make any impression whatever on the fire. The ferryboat Bergen, which was in her slip, caught fire in an instant, and was towed up the river a mass of flames.

The adjoining station and train shed of the Lackawanna Railroad were buildings of light structure. The flames spread to them in a few minutes and they were entirely destroyed.

Fire engines were dispatched from New York and all the adjoining sections of Jersey City, and all efforts were devoted to saving adjoining buildings and piers, while the yard force of the Lackawanna Railroad tried to get the cars out of the burning train shed. Many of these caught fire, but so far as is known none was totally destroyed.

It is supposed that the crew of the Bergen were on board her, and it is feared that some passengers may have remained on her decks when she was cut loose from the landing bridge and drifted out into the river. One of the fire boats went in pursuit of her and directed its powerful streams upon her blazing upper works.

Next to the burning structure are the piers of the Hamburg-American Line. Next came the North German Lloyd slips, the Holland-American Line pier, and the Thingvalla pier.

Tugs were assembled about the steamships moored to these, and the hawsers by which they were moored were cast off, so that they might be towed into the river if the fire showed any symptoms of spreading northward in the southerly breeze.

Fortunately the wind was from the west, blowing the flames and superheated air from the fire out over the river instead of in toward Hoboken and the railroad yards.

Right by the train sheds are the yards of the Lackawanna and the Erie railroads, and many hundred cars with freight of all sorts arriving and ready to be shipped west stand along the tracks in these at all times. The locomotives were kept busy pulling them as fast as they could, out beyond toe danger lines.

There were several hundred people around the Lackawanna station when the fire broke out, and there was a wild rush for safety among them. Hand bags, wraps, and other light impediments were abandoned in the rush of men and women through the narrow doors, which were the only available road to safety. Passengers in sleepers waiting for the midnight trains bound west were hastily awakened, and they also rushed for the streets of Hoboken, a few of them in scanty attire.

In addition, the new immigrant station south of the depot, which had been built at the cost of $75,000, and which was opened only last week, is absolutely destroyed. The old Duke House, a nearby hotel, is ruined.

Three ferryboats caught fire, but the flames were subdued by the fireboats.

The loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

At one o'clock this morning the fire was under control and the big steamship piers had been saved.

There was no loss of life. The fire started through an explosion on board the ferryboat Hoptatong.

Well Poisoned.

Paris green and carbolic acid were placed in the well bucket in the yard of P. B. Johnson, at the corner of Fifteenth and McDonough streets, Manchester, Va., Sunday night, and but for the timely discovery of the poison, by Mrs. Harris, a neighbor, who informed the family, a wholesale poisoning would probably have been the result. About six families depend on this well for water. A neighbor came early in the morning to draw water, and, finding green sediment in the bucket, reported the fact. Mr. Johnson discovered green finger marks on his back gate, and, going farther, found similar marks on six gates between his house and Mrs. Harris's house. The police are trying to find a man who sometime ago threatened vengeance against Mrs. Harris because she would not board him. Love, hate and jealously are said to figure in the affair, and that the party, knowing that Mrs. Harris habitually went to the well early in the morning, placed the poison in the bucket. An analysis shows that the poison was placed in the bucket instead of the well.

They saw the alleged will there, and Mr. Finck declares that he will make affidavit that the paper was not signed by his wife. He has a will made at the time he transferred the property to his wife, leaving all of the property to him.

Will of Caleb C. Willard.

The will of Caleb Clapp Willard, who died in Atlantic City on August 2, was offered for probate in Washington yesterday. The instrument was executed at Atlantic City on July 12 last, during Mr. Willard's last illness, and is said to dispose of one of the largest estates in the District of Columbia. It names three executors—his daughter, Mrs. Kate Willard Boyd; his nephews, Henry H. Willard and George E. Howe—and directs that they be not required to give bond for the discharge of their duties.

With the exception of three specific bequests the estate is left to the daughter and the two nephews named and their heirs and assigns, in trust, to hold and manage as a trust estate or fund to be known as "the C. C. Willard estate." The trustees are empowered to collect the profits arising from the estate and to pay the expenses, and from the net income remaining they are directed to pay to Susan B. Dickinson, of Charlestown, N. H., a sister of the testator, $125 a month during her lifetime; to his brother, C. Stephen Willard, of Westminster, Vt., $25 per month during his life, and of the remainder one-half is to be paid to his wife, Lucy Parker Willard, and the other half to his daughter.

At the death of the widow and daughter the remaining income shall be divided equally among his grandchildren until the younger of them shall reach the age of 25 years, when the estate shall be divided equally among them.

The specific bequests are as follows: To the Episcopal Eye and Ear Hospital, of Washington, $5,000 as a memorial to his son, Walter J. Willard; to Floyd Miller, of Chicago, $5,000; to John V. Camalier, who was his private secretary, $5,000.

Brave Russian Officers.

An officer of the Japanese naval staff has made a statement in which he pays a high tribute to some of the Russian officers participating in the battle of the Sea of Japan. His statement follows:

"There were several Russian officers whose conduct in the recent battle deserves to be held high as a model and example for all naval officers. Among them the most noteworthy was the conduct of Captain Rodionoff, commander of the Nakhimoff. His gallantry is as praiseworthy as that of Commander Hirose. During the first day of the battle the Nakhimoff was exposed to the fire of our main squadron and sustained serious damage. During the night she was made the object of a severe torpedo attack and finally completely disabled, drifted close to Tsushima. The vessel was sinking, and Captain Rodionoff sent 70 of the crew to land at Tsushima, remaining aboard himself, with his chief navigator. When the Japanese approached the sinking vessel they asked the captain to leave the vessel, but he refused. The Japanese boarded the vessel and endeavored to drag him into a boat, but he resisted. The ship was listing badly and threatened momentarily to plunge into the sea. The Japanese were forced to draw off, and the captain went below to there meet his death. Suddenly the ship went down, and our men thought the gallant officer was drowned. But Providence willed otherwise. We found the captain and navigator floating in the water, locked in each others' arms. They had embraced at what they thought was the moment of death and were partly unconscious when we rescued them."

Young Wife Accidentally Killed.

Sunday while John Rudolph Lawhorn, who is 20 years old and resides near Marlbrook, Rockbridge county, was playfully romping with his wife, a gun in his hand went off and his wife was instantly killed. He had been out with a gun to shoot a snake, and on entering his house he became engaged in a playful scuffle with his wife, who struck at him with a broomstick and hit the gun, which was supposed to be unloaded, when it was discharged. The load shot away the woman's head. Lawhorn was acquitted of blame yesterday by justice S. W. Paxton after investigating the shooting. Mrs. Lawhorn was a daughter of George T. Patterson, of Rockbridge, and only 16 years old. The couple had only been married three months.

The Peace Envoys at Portsmouth.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 8.—This city was early astir this morning to greet the peace plenipotentiaries of Japan and Russia. Gay with flags and bunting every building waved a greeting to the envoys and every point of vantage from which even a distant view of the ships that brought the envoys here or of the navy yard where they were first entertained was crowded with citizens of New Hampshire and neighboring States.

The Mayflower, bearing the Russian envoys, and the Dolphin with the Japanese representatives above dropped anchor off the navy yard.

It was shortly after 10 o'clock when Admiral Mead's launch left the yard to make his official call.

According to the programme, as arranged by the State Department, he gave the Russians precedence and visited the Mayflower first. This is because Russia maintains an embassy in the United States, whereas Japan has only a legation. The Admiral then visited the Dolphin. The firing of guns and ceremonious salutations were the features of the calls. As soon as they were concluded preparations were made by the peace envoys to go ashore. Seven government launches were placed at their disposal for this purpose. It was after 11 o'clock before the whole party was landed at the navy yard. Arrived at the building an elaborate breakfast was served to the envoys, Admiral Meade acting as host on the part of the United States government. There was wine in profusion, and the best of good humor prevailed. The Russians were particularly jovial and entered into the spirit of the occasion with gusto, while the Japanese, while seemingly equally enjoying themselves, were more reserved in their demeanor. At the conclusion of the breakfast automobiles and carriages appeared at the door and the distinguished party proceeded across the Kittery bridge which is the only connection between the navy yard and the mainland. When the Rockingham County Courthouse was reached the envoys were received by Governor McLane, his staff and council and by the New Hampshire congressional delegation. The reception here was entirely private, only the peace envoys and officials being admitted. This ended the formalities of the day and the envoys were conveyed in automobiles to the Hotel Wentworth where the flags of their respective nations float over the quarter's assigned them.

Church Destroyed by Fire.

New York, Aug. 8.—St Thomas's Church, at Fifty-third street and Fifth avenue, in the heart of the fashionable residential district, was completely destroyed by fire this morning and for a time the homes of Dr. S. Edward Webb and John D. Rockefeller were threatened with destruction. The fire started in the center of the church shortly after six o'clock and spread rapidly. When the firemen responded they found the doors of the church locked with the smoke pouring out through the cracks of the windows and doors. The doors were smashed and the flames, fanned by the wind, drove the firemen out of the church yard. Members of the University Club across the street formed a fire brigade, but could do nothing, as the heat drove them back. The flames fed on the pews and mounted the chancel and then blazed into the steeple, which seemed in danger of toppling. Efforts were made by the firemen to save many valuable relics in the edifice, but they were unavailing. Within 45 minutes after the fire had been discovered the walls of the church fell leaving only the steeple standing. St. Thomas church is one of the richest in the country, its communicants including the Vanderbilts, Astors and other wealthy families. The pastor is the Reverend S. M. Stires, who is away at present.

The loss to the church with its magnificent organ, religious paintings and bronzes known all over the world, will reach nearly $500,000. The structure cost $375,000. One bronze bas relief, called "The Adoration of the Cross," was valued at $50,000.

Collector Rogers May Resign.

It is reported that Collector of Internal Revenue Asa Rogers, of Richmond, who has held the office many years, having first been appointed on the recommendrtion of Senator Mahone, will be asked to resign in a few days. He is attending the convention at Roanoke. Complaints about his efficiency as a business man are to be the basis of his removal. Mr. Lowry, of Stafford, is an aspirant for the place. It is said that he will probably be selected.

Pessimistic View.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—The pessimistic view which has been taken of the peace negotiations continues to prevail and little hope is felt for a favorable outcome of the conference. The conservative newspaper are developing into jingo organs and declare that the Japanese terms are sure to be unreasonable. The peace conference is spoken of as the "Portsmouth comedy."

Fire in Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 8.—Fire started this morning in the store house of the Lake of Woods Milling Company in the town of St. Louis, adjoining Montreal. TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE.

Collapse of a Building---Many Killed and Injured.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 8.—A part of the building occupied by the large department store of the John G. Myers Company collapsed at 8:45 o'clock this morning, burying beneath the ruins from fifty to a hundred persons. The number cannot be definitely ascertained, as but a part of the debris has been explored. The victims are mostly girls and young boys employed by the house, although it is believed that a number of customers were in this part of the building at the time.

The cause of the collapse has not been determined, but it is believed to be partially due to excavations which were being made preparatory to improvements to the building.

Robert M. Chalmers, one of the firm, is missing and it is believed that he is buried under the debris.

The collapse came without warning. The store opened for business at 8 o'clock and the large force of clerks had begun their day's activity when the catastrophe came. The walls and the roof in the immediate center of the building, which is a large structure, fell three floors, constituting a mass of humanity, broken timbers, bricks and twisted iron in the center of the structure, all piled in the cellar.

An alarm of fire was sent in by a detective who was passing the building at the time and within one half hour two or three hundred men were engaged in digging for victims.

The building is situated on North Pearl street, near the shoping district. All stores in the vicinity are closed, and have been turned into emergency hospitals. Fifty or more physicians and a half dozen ambulances were quickly on the scene, and everything possible was done to relieve the unfortunates. But the work of recovery was exceedingly slow on account of the great piles of debris that had fallen about those caught in the collapse.

The scenes on the streets were pitiable. News of the disaster spread like wild fire and hundreds of friends and relatives of those employed in the store were soon on the scene appealing for news of their loved ones. The recovery of the victims was attended by many heart-rending scenes. Young women covered with blood, boys with broken legs and ugly gashes were tenderly carried through the crowd to some neighboring places, where physicians attended them.

The catastrophe is the most frightful to the annals of the city's history.

Up to noon 75 persons had been dug from the ruins.

Strike Ordered.

Cleveland, Ohio., Aug. 8.—Orders have been issuing from the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Iron Structural Iron Workers by Secretary McNamara for a general strike against the American Bridge Company from Maine to California. It is estimated that between 15,000 and 20,000 bridge and structural iron workers will quit work. Bridge work will be tied up in many parts of the country, and the strike when it comes, will affect thousands in the building industry. The strike, was the outcome of trouble between the Union and the American Bridge Company, over the sub-letting of a contract to a Boston concern which the union claims is unfair.

Bread Famine Threatened.

New York, Aug. 8.—The Jewish residents of the East Side are seriously threatened today with a bread famine as the result of the strike of the "Kosher" bread bakers. The strike has become general, practically all the bakeries being tied up, and it is a serious matter today for the people to obtain bread. The strike has been marked by a number of disturbances. Most of the trouble has occurred in front of the various bakeries which tried to operate, the strikers and their friends making demands to frighten the men who remained at work. The police have been active, however, and no serious troubles occurred.

Supreme Council Called.

Boston, Aug. 8.—Supreme Secretary W. O. Robin, of the Royal Arcanum, issued the following statement this morning. The Richmond Primary.

The Richmond democratic city committee will take no action looking to holding another primary until the grand jury now probing the frauds in the one held a few weeks ago makes its report. This was made public today in a letter to one of the candidates who requested another primary, which, he showed, could be held without a penny of cost to the party. The grand jury examined a large number of voters today and adjourned over until tomorrow, when there will be many more on hand. Every indication goes to show now that the report expected about the last of this week will result in some arrests and may be such as to compel the committee to order a new primary.

The Venezuelan government has placed an order in Genoa, Italy, for six torpedo boats and one torpedo boat destroyer.

Fraud Exposed.

MARTIN AND MONTAGUE.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch gives the following account of the political meeting at Rocky Mount yesterday:

Contrary to general expectation, Senator Martin and Governor Montague did not meet in joint debate. While the unnumbered clans were still gathering, anticipating an oratorical revel, to be followed, mayhap, by a feast of more substantial sort, the unlooked-for had occurred. The governor of Virginia has been unmistakably rebuffed, and all hope of a division of time between the two senatorial candidates had vanished.

The announcement, foreseen or not by the local tribes, was a profound surprise to many, who had traveled afar to be in at what all believe would be a death grapple between the rival factions. It was not to be. The contretemps was short and sharp.

The governor challenged, inviting a joint discussion, with a reversal of the terms obtaining at the historic King George meeting. The Senator, anxious to accept both challenge and terms, proposed, was overbarred by his friends. The Rocky Mount barbecue and reception, arranged in his honor, they declared appertained to a social function, and they would consent to no intrusion, even though it be the governor of Virginia who came.

The question was thoroughly threshed out, and the long and short of it was that, diplomatically as could be, but nevertheless, unmistakably, the Governor was informed that he would not be received; that he was, in fact, that thing most aptly described in the street corner phrase, a "butter in." It was a recrudescence of the already severly hammered subject of who was first in Rocky Mount, and who was invading the other's stamping ground, each side charging the other with the offense.

Here is the essence of the dispute, contained in the following official communication between the warring camps:

Rocky Mount, Va., Aug. 7, 1905.

Hon. Thomas S. Martin, Rocky Mount, Va.:

Dear Sir—I propose a joint discussion, upon reversal of terms obtaining at the recent debate between us at King George. I will be pleased to have you reply.

Very truly,

A. J. MONTAGUE.

Messrs. H. N. Dillard and John P. Lee:

Gentlemen—Your note, including copy of telegram from Governor Montague, proposing a debate here today, with the terms of King George reversed, has just been handed to me. I am here to address the people at a barbecue gotten up by my friends as a compliment to me, and they propose to carry out the arrangements made by them for the occasion, weeks ago.

Yours truly,

THOMAS S. MARTIN.

Separated by a half mile of awful, blistering dirt road, the two speakers at noon ascended the platform, and for two hours pummelled each other with this intervening space. Over the hills that hid them from each other came now and then into the camp of the one the faint echo of a cheer from the other. Between the two trudged unwearyingly half a thousand sweltering men, women and boys, enduring much that they might miss nothing.

In all its history Rocky Mount has recorded no scene a duplicate of this. Perhaps three or four thousand people were there in all. People from the hills and valleys, from the coves and the mountain side, from villages and cities—Rocky Mount, Roanoke, Martinsville, Danville and the counties round about. The great bulk of them came in a train that groaned beneath an overloaded weight and that at times crept at a snail's pace along the dusty road.

Two bands, one for each candidate, led the crowd from the station to the separate meeting places—the governor and his party in the courthouse, the Martin enthusiasts to the Hotel Robertson. The heat was intense, but otherwise the day at noon was ideally fair. The writer visited both meeting places. Senator Martin appeared to have the larger crowd. The utmost enthusiasm prevailed at both meetings. Both men were in deadly earnest and both hurled their bitterest darts.

The Red Fox was never more ready and apt, the junior Senator never more clear and positive in his denunciation. The clansmen of each howled mightily, and between them and the bands stirred the dust off Rocky Mount's buzzard roosts. After two hours it was done. While the last words were being said the lightning flashed out of the west, great black clouds covered up the glorious sun, and a torrent of rain came down. Each camp had its feast of good things, and then each party made its way through the mud, once dust, to the railroad station. In the course of time the train came.

Hearings on the freight rate tariffs now in force in Virginia, which are not satisfactory to shippers, will be held by the Corporation Commission on September 12. The 11 principal railroad companies in the State have been served with notices to appear, and also with copies of the proposed new traffic classification and charges.

They Appeal to Our Sympathies.

FIVE ITALIANS KILLED.

Work Train Plows into Laborers Near this City.

The cut between Seminary station and what is known as the Southern Railway crossing, about three miles west of this city, was the scene of a terrible disaster yesterday evening about 5:30 o'clock. Four Italian laborers were killed outright, another was so terribly injured that he died about an hour later, and one was seriously but not fatally injured.

The accident occurred on the new work of the Washington-Southern Railway, north of the old track. The new tracks begin at Seminary station and the scene of the accident is between this point and the double bridges over Cameron run. The disaster was the result of peculiar circumstances. Six men were shoveling earth from a flat car standing on the north-bound track, which at present is used for both north and south bound trains, when a work train approached on the southbound track. As a warning to those on the gravel train the engineer sounded his whistle several times in succession, which apparently startled the Italians, and one of them, probably supposing a collision was imminent, made a leap to the opposite track. The others followed, and in an instant they were struck by the engine. As stated above, but one escaped death.

The dead and the injured were placed aboard the work train and brought to the new union station at the head of King street, where a call was sent in for the ambulance. One man, whose right arm was cut off and whose head was terribly crushed, but who was still alive, was placed in the ambulance and hurried to the Alexandria Hospital, but he died just as he reached that institution. The other injured man was then conveyed to the hospital, where his injuries were not considered dangerous.

The men were employed by D. F. Keenan, who has the contract for laying the tracks on the new grading of the Washington-Southern Railway between St. Asaph Junction and Quantico, and whose office is at Franconia.

Justice Triplett, of Fairfax county, was notified this morning of the accident.

The names of the four men who were killed outright were Bertino Natili, Masic Francisco, Bellonio Gisuanni and Antonio Bertuccio.

The bodies of the five unfortunate Italians were taken to Demaine & Son's undertaking establishment, where an inquest was held by Justice Triplett this evening.

Four of the bodies will be interred in Bethel cemetery and the other in St. Mary's cemetery.

Five bodies in one undertaking establishment is a rare spectacle in Alexandria. During the past twenty years this has occurred but twice—after the "Fat Nancy" accident on the Southern Railway and after that of yesterday.

New Steamers.

The model of the new steel steamer which is to be built at the Newport News shipyard for the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company has been completed and will this week be carried to Washington to be tested in the ship-testing dock at the navy yard. As soon as these tests are completed the keel of the new steamer will be laid and the work on her pushed as rapidly as possible. There is some talk of the new steamer making daily trips to lower Cedar Point and Piney Point during the summer of 1906.

Mr. John Callahan, general manager of the Norfolk and Washington line, went to Wilmington yesterday to make arrangements for the launching of the first of the new ferry steamers some time this month. The launching will be made a gala event, and the officials of the Norfolk and Washington company, the mayor and president of the city council of Alexandria and others will be invited to witness the launching, the guests of the Norfolk and Washington company.

Funerals.

The funeral of the late James W. Beach took place this morning from St. Mary's Church, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the deceased. The services were conducted by Rev. Father Coleman and the pallbearers were Messrs. Henry H. Kelly, James Javins, John McKenney, William Rushman, William Chauncey and L. C. Schwendeman.

The funeral of Samuel Slaughter Mays took place from his parents' residence, corner of King and Patrick streets, this afternoon. A number of friends and acquaintances of the deceased young man were present. The services were conducted by Rev. J. P. Stump of the M. E. Church South and the pallbearers were Messrs. Isaac O'Brien, Maurice Wilkins, Windsor Snowden, James Douglas, Sam'l Fisher, Herbert Taylor, Leo Downey and Ernest Demaine.

The funeral of Samuel D. Markell will take place at 5 o'clock this evening from the residence of his brother, Mr. George E. Markell, on Wolfe street, near Fairfax.

The Electric Railway.

The Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon railway officials will this week begin the cutting down of a high hill in the railway yard at Four Mile Run, and the earth obtained from the hill is to be used in filling in a pond between the power house and the Alexandria and Washington turnpike. The reclaimed ground will be added to the yard and new sidings will be laid over it. It is also stated that the railway company will in the near future erect another shelter barn at Four Mile Run for the storage of its cars when not in service. The construction of the new trestle across Four Mile Run will be completed this week. The work of preparing the road-bed for the double track from Arlington junction to the new Highway bridge is progressing.

Flagman Berry, of the Southern Railway, had his head and left hand seriously cut last night. He was in the caboose of a freight train at Seminary station when the cars were brought to a sudden standstill, which threw him against a window, the glass in which was broken.

Cure For The Blues
ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED
Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up: you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all-gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

CANDIDATES.

Alexandria, Va., July 19, 1905.

TO MY FELLOW CITIZENS OF ALEXANDRIA CITY AND COUNTY:

I beg to announce that I will be a candidate for the House of Delegates for the city and county of Alexandria subject to nomination by the democratic primary. It is well known to my fellow citizens that I was an aspirant for the honor of lieutenant-governor of Virginia, and that for reasons already made known to the public I felt constrained to retire from that contest. When I did so I had no intention of becoming a candidate for renomination and re-election to the House of Delegates, until urged upon me by a large number of my fellow citizens of the city and county of Alexandria, whose wishes and friendship I felt under obligations to regard. After mature consideration and yielding to what I believe to be the wish of a large body of my fellow citizens and friends representing every interest in the community, I have concluded to stand for re-nomination and re-election. I have been twice honored with the election by my people as their representative in the General Assembly of Virginia, and trust that my past record in that body will be to them a pledge and assurance of my future conduct should it be their pleasure to return me to this post of honor. In the event of my nomination and election I pledge myself faithfully to guard and defend every interest of the city and county in which I have spent my life and in which are centered all my affections and interests. I respectfully solicit the endorsement and support of the people whom I have represented to the best of my ability in the two last General Assemblies of Virginia. Very respectfully, jy26 10t JAMES R. CATON.

Delegate Sat on Manhole.

The International Brotherhood of Teamsters began its third annual convention in Odd Fellows' Hall in Philadelphia yesterday, with Cornelius P. Shea, of Chicago, president of the union, in the chair. The delegates represent a membership estimated at 125,000 men and boys and come from nearly every section of the country.

This is the labor organization which for weeks interfered with business in Chicago, the teamsters in which city struck in an effort to enforce demands made upon the merchants. Chicago sends 145 delegates to represent its brotherhood membership of 40,000.

While the delegates did nothing of general interest or of great importance, nevertheless they had a rather busy day. The feature of the proceedings was the appearance of a delegate in front of the rostrum who declared that a non-union negro coal-wagon driver was delivering coal at the building in which they met. This caused considerable stir, and, after some debate, a committee was appointed to look into the matter.

In the meantime the negro driver was having a warm dispute with several delegates on the sidewalk, attracting a large crowd. Delegate D. McCullum, of New York, was the man who discovered that the driver was not a union man. He told the negro that he could not deliver the coal while the union was in session in the building. The delegate sat on the cover over the manhole and began making a speech to the crowd that was rapidly growing larger.

The non-union driver appealed to the chief engineer of the building, who, finding that he could not persuade the delegate to let the coal be shot into the cellar, sent for a policeman. The police ordered the delegate off the manhole, which command he obeyed, and went into the hall with some of the delegates. The coal was then unloaded without further delay.

Leapes from Brooklyn Bridge.

In sight of hundreds of elevated and surface car passengers on the Brooklyn bridge, a well dressed unidentified man leaped from a surface car bound from New York for Brooklyn yesterday evening and running to the center of the bridge between the towers, hesitated a second and then leaped through the railing to the river below. His body was seen to turn three times in the air and then to strike the water headforemost. The car upon which the man was riding was stopped as soon as he left it and the moterman and a number of passengers gave chase, but reached the edge of the bridge only in time to witness the plunge in the river. Policemen in a rowboat searched in vain for the body.
